

Frantic time

Running wild in a world of chaos, restless steps, chasing shadows that haunt your weary mind and you still got no chance to unwind!

Restless heart and the world keeps spinning, it's hard to breathe, the air is thinning, you can't find release
and you still got no chance to find peace!

Now you're free, your spirit's soaring high,
above the clouds, where dreams can fly,
through the longest hours and the darkest night
you have found your way to face the day.

Frantic times, your nerves were shaking, running scared, your heart was quaking, you didn't feel at ease
and you still got no chance to find peace!

Now you're free, your spirit's soaring high,
above the clouds, where dreams can fly,
you have found your way to face the day.
